HAND THAT ROCKS CRADLE IS INVOKED TO SWAY VOTE

MONOTONOUS GRIND NOW CHIEF BUSINESS

DAVIS OF WEST VIRGINIA NOW LOOMING AS DARK HORSE

NEW WRINKLE IN POLITICS USED FIRST TIME

By DOROTHY SHUMATE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 1.—The hand that rocks the cradle can be made to sway the vote.

Apparently this is a truth which is recognized by the Democratic wise-ones.

For last night at Madison Square Garden, feminine politicians were busily "swaying" while the roll call marched proudly on. The adjournment in the middle of the roll call showed the walls of the enemy gradually yielding to the feminine touch.

For McAdoo women and Smith women and other women well schooled in the gentle art of discourses were chosen by their stronger and more skilled colleagues to take up their strong-arms in the enemy camp for the sole purpose of "rocking the vote."

Mrs. Clara Goodwin, wife of Judge Goodwin of Lake Forest, Illinois, and Baltimore, is one of the McAdoo assets.

"I've gained my quota," she announced in answer to the question about the number of new votes she could add to the McAdoo figures.

Mrs. Goodwin is a vivid red haired person. She has worked vigorously all week on anti-McAdoo folk.

Meanwhile Elizabeth Marberry, Tammany expert, convention scribe and one of New York's most loved women sat with her determination and stern-ness.

"I'll give a great glass of beer to the young lady who will go down into that Kentucky delegation and break it," Mrs. Marberry challenged.

"A pretty girl and a promise like that ought to mix things up in Kentucky," she added.

"For the rest, here," my advice," in spite of her 200 pounds, Mrs. Marberry was able to do her rounds.

"You don't mean to say that you need votes, Miss Marberry," someone loudly inquired. "Nothing else but," admitted the Smith stronghold, "and don't forget about the refreshments."

Meanwhile the feminine cordon closed in on the delegates and never weary tongue more glib or politicians more apprehensive.

"I've gained my quota," she announced in answer to the question about the number of new votes she could add to the McAdoo figures.

Republicans Are Now Making Promises Of Economy In Gov't.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—More economy in government and more tax reduction for the people is the keynote of the administration's financial program for the coming fiscal year.

At the semi-annual meeting of the business organization of government last night, President Coolidge announced his determination to see that this program was followed out.

"I am for economy," said the President, "after that I am for more economy. . . . We must give the people relief from excessive burden of taxation."

The President announced that the executive branch of the government would take drastic steps to do its part in economizing and declared his first move would be to require that preliminary estimates of expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1925 tentatively set at $3,083,000,000 be cut below $2,000,000,000.

Such, the President said, would assure a surplus of at least $108,000,000 by the end of 1925.

THAT IS MERELY YOUR OPINION ABOUT THE MATTER

LONDON, July 1.—The Laborite Daily Herald in an editorial on the Democratic National Convention accuses the delegates of vaguely avoiding the Klan and shelving the League of Nations.

"Both decisions," says the Herald, "completely destroy what little hope either America or the world might have had in a 'democratic' regime."

BREAK COMES ON TWENTIETH BALLOT

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 1.—Polling 125 votes on the 21st ballot John W. Davis began to be a real factor in the convention voting as an outstanding dark horse.

The switch came on the 20th ballot when Missouri cast her entire vote of 36 for Davis, thus breaking away from McAdoo.

Both McAdoo and Smith are losing ground.

Smith and McAdoo floor workers are trying to bring a change in the Iowa delegation but failed to swing a majority and the chairman announced that Iowa would continue to vote as a unit for the time at least.

20th ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 432, John W. Davis, 122.

21st ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 439, Davis 125. On this ballot Nebraska dropped Governor Bryan and gave 7 to McAdoo.

22nd ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 438½, Davis 123½.

Murderers Of Family Of Five Still At Large

CHICAGO, July 1.—Baffled in the search for the maniac who beat Otto Eder, his wife and their small sons to death Friday night in their Elmhurst home with no trace even of the weapons used, Dupage county officials today were planning to drag Salty Creek which flows nearby.

Bodies of the five, the skulls crushed by some blunt instrument were found by police late Sunday, only a few foot prints in the mud leading eastward toward Chicago giving any clue as to the direction in which the slayer had fled.

Officers are concentrating their efforts in an attempt to find a half witted friend of the Eder family, who is known to have been at the home on the night of the murder.

SECOND DAY OF "FREEZE OUT" GAME OPENS WITH BOTH SIDES CLAIMING LEAD PIPE CINCH

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 1.—William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith resumed maneuvers today in the great "freeze out" now being perpetrated on the Democratic convention.

With the convention still tightly locked at midnight after 15 ballots which proved only that both sides were in deadly earnest about definitely stopping the other, today's balloting got under way with the general situation something like this.

1. McAdoo now has considerably more than a third of the convention vote apparently so tied that he can absolutely prevent the nomination of Smith. This number is said to be around 366 votes.

2. Smith is striving to establish a "die hard" vote amounting to one-third of the convention so that he can assuredly stop McAdoo. Smith's total during today's balloting is expected to reach 350—beyond which it is doubtful how far he can climb.

3. John W. Davis of West Va., who closed the first day and night of balloting in third place, is an excellent strategic position. He has many second choice pledges among the delegates and his popularity, generally, is shown by the fact that outside his own state, his votes yesterday were scattered through nearly a dozen states.

There are two things that may have a very important effect now on the convention result and both of them favor of the opposition of McAdoo.

First, numerous McAdoo delegates from the western states, particularly, are leaving the city tonight or tomorrow, and in leaving are compelled to leave their proxies in hands not so eager to name McAdoo. While these proxies can be tied up for a time by McAdoo's friends, it is obvious they cent's be held to him forever. Many of his votes are in danger through this route.

The second factor likely to influence the convention is the combined psychological effect of the inevitable breaking of the unit rule in some states, coupled with the gallery demonstrations for Smith. Several states now voting solidly for McAdoo under the unit rule have many delegates for other candidates in their lineup. Once they abandon the unit rule, even the slightest turn to Smith will bring down a din from the galleries where the God of Smith reigns supreme.

Because, it is necessary first to stop McAdoo's continued gains, the Smith forces are trying to absolutely hobble one third of the delegates, then theirs will be a waiting game—waiting until a sufficient number of McAdoo men leave town or until the delegates will be so stampeded. It is easy to understand why the Smith people are saying "there will be no nomination before Thursday evening."

Neither McAdoo nor Smith have reached the peak of his strength yet. McAdoo has votes in Arkansas, New Hampshire and Virginia at least which he can count on in a pinch—and numerous others which are being kept under cover. Smith has between 16 and 20 more votes in the Illinois delegation that Brennan is saving for the psychological moment and there are additional points of strength for the New York Governor in Delaware, Maryland, and if the unit rule comes off, in Missouri, Iowa, and Kansas.

So it should not be surprising to see McAdoo rise as high as 550 votes today, with Smith going to 375—and still no likelihood of a choice either way.

The situation yields itself easily to consideration of dark horse possibilities. McAdoo and his managers declare they see no dark horse.

Government Will Now Mark Time In Naval Oil Reserve Suit

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The Federal government's fight to regain possession of the Naval oil reserves is now at a standstill until October.

The trial of Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, E. J. Dohney, and his son, indicted for conspiracy to defraud the government will not begin here before then.

Suits instituted in Wyoming and California for cancellation of the leases likewise will not be heard until October.

All four defendants indicted yesterday must appear next week here to plead and to post $5,000 bond each, Fall and the Dohney's for conspiracy and bribery and Sinclair for conspiracy.

The indictments were regarded here as a great victory for special government counsel, Atlas Pomerene and Owen Roberts, who have diligently conducted the government's case before the grand jury for nearly two months.

Frank J. Hogan counsel for Dohney here likewise declared his clients were pleased with the result.

The oil cases are now transferred from the form of partisan politics to the courts of justice. "We welcome the change," he said.

Private Burials for Victims Of Storm

LORAIN, Ohio, July 1.—Lorain buried its dead privately today, the 74 known victims of the devastating storm of Saturday evening while downtown in the ruined business section of the city, khaki clad troops moved about.

Where the State Theatre had stood, a light steam shovel puffed as it scooped at the debris where more bodies may be found.

The smell of hot soup came from the rolling army kitchens, while the Salvation Army maintained shelters and the Red Cross dressing stations still found something to do.

Marauding and rioting broke out today in what is known as the Colorado avenue section of the city.

The military authorities who feared serious fighting between inhabitants of the section and persons who were plundering the wrecked houses, dispatched one company of the 145th Infantry to the scene.

Nine tenths of the business district of Lorain will have to be rebuilt, engineers said, nearly all of the buildings left standing were so badly weakened by the tornado they will have to be torn down.

All of the homeless had temporary shelter today. School buildings and tents furnished quarters for about 2,000 persons.

The search for those reported missing continued and crews are carefully searching the ruins in the hope of finding some one who might yet be alive.

BALLOTING GOES ON WITH VERY FEW CHANGES

NEW YORK, July 1.—Balloting was renewed this morning with the convention still deadlocked.

Smith followers plan to win McAdoo proxies when McAdoo delegates leave for home. Both candidates hope to have enough votes by night to prevent either from getting the nomination.

Smith delegates want to prolong the balloting until Thursday, when they believe they can win out.

No indication of any sort of compromise yet.

16th Ballot

Smith, 305½.
McAdoo, 478.

Others scattered, showing no particular strength by any dark horse.

17th Ballot

Smith, 312½.
McAdoo, 471½.

18th Ballot

Smith, 312½.
McAdoo, 471½.

19th Ballot

Smith, 311½.
McAdoo, 474.

Indications that a number of breaks in delegations now bound by the unit rule may be expected, came when on the 18th ballot Florida cast 11 for McAdoo and one for Smith, instead of all for McAdoo.

Balloting is proceeding much faster.

A brokerage firm in Wall Street announced $5,000 at even terms that McAdoo at no time would poll 550 votes.

Got $20,000 In Breach Of Promise Action

NEW YORK, July 1.—Madlyn Devers, Folies' beauty, was awarded $20,000 in her breach of promise suit against Philip Shaw, wealthy New York broker, by a jury here today.

Miss Devers had asked $100,000 alleging the middle aged broker proposed to her without telling her he already had a wife at the time.

Shaw admitted making the proposal before obtaining a divorce but said he told Miss Devers quite plainly that the marriage proposal was contingent on his obtaining a divorce.

The broker obtained the divorce after the suit was filed by Miss Devers and caused a sensation in court when he offered to marry the chorus girl if she would drop the suit.

CHARTER

The charter to be voted on Monday, July 7th, is the labor of 15 of Mexia's loyal citizens who have the best interest of the city at heart. They are property holders, home owners and among them are fathers and mothers. And in reading over this instrument you can see that it has been carefully drawn up to safeguard the present and future generation. The men and women who framed this charter expect to live in Mexia. This is a double reason why they used their best thoughts and talents in framing this document. They also realize Mexia is no longer a cross road village and needs a broader charter to operate under.

Today if you would go to your Mayor or Commissioner and ask them to have the weeds cut down on Hopkins street on property belonging to the city, twice as high as your head, where you can hide yourself under a street light, the answer would be, "Our charter will not permit us to have them cut." Ask for more water when it was badly needed as we citizens who have lived here for the past ten years have experienced a shortage of water. What will the city authorities say? Our charter simply won't permit water. My reason for reciting these two instances is to call the fact to the voters of Mexia on the charter, I feel like a man in the newspaper business is in close touch with the needs of a growing and progressive community and what we need is a definite starting point leading somewhere. And if you will read this carefully prepared instrument you will readily see it has both of these features, so go out Monday the 7th and vote for the people's charter.

—W. K. BOYD.

COTTON EXCHANGE OPENS TOMORROW FOR BUSINESS

Mr. Roy Akin announced today that the Mexia Cotton Exchange would be open for business Wednesday morning in time to catch the two important reports, the Government condition of cotton and acreage reports.

The exchange will be open at 8 o'clock at which time reports will begin to come in. All the leading spot cotton markets of Texas will be carried on the board in addition to the markets of New York, New Orleans and Liverpool. Here you will be able to get quotations just as quickly as in Dallas, Houston, or any of the larger cities of Texas.

Mr. Akin, who is manager of the exchange states that he shall be glad to have any one who is interested in the markets to visit his exchange and make themselves at home. Farmers who bring cotton to town will have the privilege of viewing the board and see just what the market is doing all over the world which is a feature no other town has in this section of the state.

The Straightline Cape Frock

For Shorts or General Wear

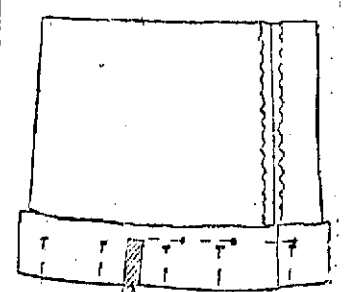

No wardrobe is complete without a cape frock, and, of course, it must be a straightline model. Good idea, too, to develop it in striped material for best service.

A model that will be as much in vogue several months from now as it is today is this straightline frock in striped fabric. As a distinctively summer creation, however, it may be carried out in silk broadcloth. 4 1/2 yards being needed to make the design. The fastening is straight down the front and the opening, like the collar, sleeves and cape, is bound with flat silk braid.

One may or may not have pockets, but the false flaps should be added because they afford another opportunity to use the braid binding which is so smart a feature of all sports and semi-sports models this season.

If preferred, the sleeves may be shortened to the elbows and trimmed with turn-back cuffs of their own material. Paris seems to cling to long sleeves for street wear, though. The diagram shows how to measure the hem after the skirt has been turned up. When working on a straight edge it is well to draw a thread on the line of the first turning. Basic this first turning wide enough so that none of the raw edges will work out from underneath it. From this narrow turned edge, measure the exact depth the hem is to be when finished and draw another thread on this line for the second turning. If the lines are not drawn, as is often impossible in case the work is on an irregular line, use a gauge. This made by taking a straight piece of cardboard and cutdispend with the use of pumping.

The new appliance is the invention of a Japanese engaged in the pearl fishing industry here.

It consists of a small mask, with face glass and rubber edge, which covers the eyes and nose. The mask is connected to a cylinder about sixteen pounds in weight filled with compressed air and carried on the chest.

The supply of air to the nose is regulated by the mouth, which controls an attachment to the tube connecting the cylinder with the mask.

The old cumbersome diving suit is dispensed with, and the diver can thus move about with greater freedom.

FOLKS SHUDDER AT 'BROKEN OUT' FACES

Folks simply can't help showing that pimply, blotchy or rough faces are unpleasant for them to look at, much less associate and become intimate with people who are so careless about their appearance as to let these skin blemishes rule their destiny. No wonder it seems like "cold chills" run down their backs as they pass you by.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, by healing the skin tissue, remove such skin disfigurements, and the way they quickly get rid of them is responsible for their popularity and tremendous sale of more than two million packages a year. Your dealer has them both. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Black and White Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—(Adv.)

Hail Boy Prodigy As A Paderewski

(By International News Service) ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Atlanta musicians have discovered a boy prodigy at the piano—a "marvel," a "wonder," "another Paderewski."

He is none other than Philip Deidy, a twelve-year-old youth, who has been studying the piano for two years. He was "discovered" by a well-known musician who bears almost the same name Enrico Leide.

Little Philip had been studying with a local instructor for about a year when his accomplishments "almost bewildered" her. So she took the boy up to play for Leide.

Expecting to be compelled to listen to some overly-proud mother's son's simple interpretation of an equally simple composition, he agreed to listen. Instead of the elementary rudiments usually given by such pupils, the "boy wonder" started with Paderewski's "Minuet."

TANLAC SAVED LIFE SAYS MCKINNEY MAN

MCKINNEY GIVES MEDICINE FULL CREDIT.

"That I am enjoying good health; in fact, that I am alive today, I attribute solely to Tanlac," is the remarkable statement made recently by R. H. McKinney, well known resident of 804 S. Chesnut St., McKinney, Texas.

"Back in 1917, stomach trouble hit me hard and I soon got where I could scarcely eat anything without suffering torture. Even water would hurt me and at times I thought I would die the pain was so bad. I went along this way a year and by that time I wasn't able to eat a thing but raw eggs and grape juice. I had lost weight until I was just about as poor as a snake and so weak all I could do was to lay around the house. I felt like I would rather not live than to continue suffering so.

"Then, one day I read what Tanlac had done in a case almost like mine and as I was just about at the end of my rope anyway, I decided to try Tanlac thoroughly. I bought five bottles to start with and, sir, before I finished the first bottle, I was getting better. My appetite picked up and I could eat more without suffering, so I stuck right to Tanlac until I took the five bottles, and by that time I was a well man. My appetite was dandy, I could eat everything, and I soon got back my full strength and gained 30 pounds of good, solid weight besides. My whole outlook on life was changed too, for I felt like a new man, with a brand new stomach, and I have not been bothered a moment with stomach trouble since then. I honestly believe Tanlac saved my life and there's nothing too good I could say for it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 million bottles sold.

noon. I want you to play lots then. You must."

Philip's touch is considered one of the most remarkable accomplishments about the youth, Leide said.

"His execution is marvelous, and his touch is one of the most remarkable things I have seen in my musical career. He must have been playing all his life."

But there the musician was mistaken, according to the youth's instructor, Mrs. Daisy Cobb. She said that he had been studying the piano only for two years—from the age of ten.

Leide gave the prodigy only one line of advice.

"Don't attempt to master work too big for you," he said. "Take it slowly and some day you will be a master of the pianoforte."

THERE'S ART IN BOBBING

It's no longer a question of snip, snip and it's off.

Particular women now demand that the hair which remains form a becoming frame for the face and gracefully outlined head.

That's where "art" comes in, for there are as many styles of bobs as there are bobbed haired girls and women. Each one is an individual problem of chin, eyes, nose and mouth.

Then there's the fashionable element—the smart touch which has always associated Paris with women's coiffures—

And the necessity of keeping the hair glossy, fluffy and clean.

All that fastidious women desire will be accomplished by a weekly visit and a small sum well spent at

This Is Pro Drink How About the Antis?

NEW YORK, July 1.—Five tons of coffee, enough to make 300,000 cups are being drunk by the delegates, alternates, and visitors attending the Democratic National Convention here this week. Whether the tremendous stock of the beverage will be exhausted by the thousands who flock to Madison Square Garden depends largely upon the duration of the convention.

The concessionaires have laid in their edibles on the basis of a deadlock in choosing the presidential candidate that will hold the delegates in this city for two weeks. On that mode of reasoning, they have also laid in fifty barrels of lobsters and enough "hot dogs" to supply 32,000 every day. Coffee, "hot dogs" and sea food are chiefly in demand at the numerous counters which have been placed in convenient places in the Garden.

According to the holders of the eating concessions, the middle western delegates are calling largely for sea-food—lobsters and clams—while the unanimous choice of all for a beverage seems to be coffee, with iced coffee, because of the weather, proving exceedingly popular.

TRANSLUCENT WINDOWS OBSCURE COLLEGE VIEW

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Physicians and attaches of the medical department at the Ohio State University have found grief in an unusual instance of economy put forth by the contractor erecting the new university medical science building.

Instructed to fill the frames of windows in the new operating room with translucent glass, the contractor found this type of window pane materially cheaper than the more common transparent variety. Hence, he reasoned, with such difference in price, why confine the translucent glass to the operating room?

Those who eventually must labor in the new building found fault, not only with the contractor's logic, but with the translucent panes which will confine their visions to the four walls and which are to be found in practically every window in the new building.

ASTIGMATISM

Astigmatism sounds like an awful hard word, but it really means "without a point." Translated into everyday language, when we say that a person has astigmatism, we mean that his eyes are so shaped that the rays of light do not come to a point; hence, his vision is disturbed, and his eyes often strained.

In no other defect is such definite care on the part of the optometrist required as in the correction of astigmatism. After finding out the kind of lens that is needed, he sees that it is supplied; and, oh! how carefully he does measure the finished glasses. A little twist or a wee turn and his careful work in fitting the eyes is for naught.

The trained optometrist finds that the great majority of those who seek his services have astigmatism. It may be of one variety or another, and may be combined with near-sightedness or far-sightedness, or may occur alone as a simple astigmatism. In any event, the most painstaking care is required to insure comfortable vision and satisfactory glasses.

No optometrist today who is worthy of his profession but has been trained in the correction of this defect. One instrument is used exclusively for

SCIENCE SEEKS BIRTH PLACE OF MAN IN MONGOLIAN DESERT

Andrews Again Heads Party Hoping
To Find Traces of Man a Million
And a Half Years Old.

Having established to their own satisfaction the fact that man existed 600,000 years ago, scientists will now attempt to trace his origin back another million years.

Led by Roy Chapman Andrews, who returned from Asia a year ago with a nest of 26 dinosaur eggs ten million years old, another expedition sailed from the United States May 25th for China. Thence the party will proceed into the heart of the Gobi desert, in Mongolia, where it is hoped a five-year search will reveal further amazing secrets concerning the early life of man, beast and reptile.

As in the previous expedition, the scientists will rely on American-built motor cars and trucks for transportation, although roads are unknown in most of the vast territory to be explored. Mr. Andrews recently visited Dodge Brothers factory in Detroit, where five cars were being equipped for the expedition. Mr. Andrews expressed great satisfaction with the new equipment and repeated that he attributed a great share of the success of his last memorable expedition to the remarkable endurance of Dodge Brothers cars. These made it possible to accomplish a 30-year task in three years. In view of this experience it was only natural that he should again insist upon Dodge Brothers cars for his next expedition.

Fifteen scientists representing twelve branches of learning, chosen from 4,000 applicants constitute the party.

While scientists differ on the subject, this work and many others are employed in the determining of this and other ocular conditions with which the optometrist meets.

ject, especially since the discovery of the 600,000-year-old Foxhill man in England. Mr. Andrews is of the belief that man evolved in Asia and that it will be in the younger rocks of Mongolia, if anywhere, that traces of his first activities will be found. He is strongly supported in this theory by an eminent scientist as Henry Fairfield Osborn who was referred to by William Jennings Bryan, in their famous debate on evolution, as "a tall professor who comes down out of the trees to push good people who believe in God off the sidewalk."

"When we found the ten-million-year-old dinosaur eggs, we were examining rocks older than humanity," said Mr. Andrews. "But now we are going to the rocks where human remains are more likely to exist. It is a gamble, but we think the prospects justify gambling."

In their quest the scientists will push farther west than they have ever gone before, working both to the north and the south of the Altai Mountains. As the beginning of exploration will be made about 1,000 miles from the nearest base, Kalgan, it will be necessary to organize with special care. Arrangements have been made for 200 camels to carry provisions ahead of the motor trucks.

He says they are due to confused ideas and a defect in teaching methods which must be paid for later in confused ideas and muddled practices in business and government.

TO MOTHER

WILLIE WRIGHT in "BLACK CAT"

The world knows no sweeter name,
Oh, Mother, dear, than thine.
Your name in the heaven of love
Shall forever and ever shine.

The light of the eternal is shed on you,
As all toils and cares you endure,
And you are a shining light to the world,
Oh, Mother, so sweet and true.

Oh, Mother dear, we thank the One
Who has kept you with us yet,
A prize so dear for us to have,
That we'll try and ne'er forget.

So here's to you, Oh, Mother dear,
The sweetest name e'er told,
Worth more to me than life itself,
More precious to me than gold.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

WITHOUT COMMENT

Believe it or not. The Milan, Missouri, Standard report that a conductor on a Burlington train near Jewell City the other day found Mrs. Frank Scott had only one ticket for herself and 13 children. The children occupied five double seats. "Are these all your children or is it a picnic?" asked the conductor. They were all the children of Mrs. Scott and she had the family Bible in her hand to prove it. The Scotts have been married less than two years and have 13 children, all boys. There are five sets of twins and two sets of triplets. The thirteen oldest children were all under 5 years old and could ride free. They were being taken by their mother on a visit to relatives in Canada. Terrell Transcript.

How many of us stop when we see "Good Morning" and think what the phrase means? Nobody knows how it started, but he or she to whom the idea first came was a poet. For in those two words lives the essence of a prayer. Of course we who say it hope our own morning may be good—that goes without saying. But do we go a step further and breathe a prayer that the day of those we meet may also be filled with happiness? The full phrase of our ancestors was "God give thee good morning." This would be a great deal better if we really meant what we said. If when we greeted our acquaintances we really wanted their days to be filled with the joy of living. If we did, we'd go out and help to make them so. Trinity Daily News.

Jazz music, jazz newspapers and jazz motion pictures are questions of far greater concern than they appear to be. The people find out the evil influences of these evils the better it will be for the youth of the land.—Groesbeck Journal.

During vacation time the matter of keeping children who have been let free from all school discipline, properly employed, is a problem for parents. A schedule of reading will not be amiss. Have the children in the family take up a specific reading course. This should be arranged with the thought of each child's individual needs. Rounding out rough and uneven spots in the mental and spiritual make up of the child. They should be guided in the selection of books from libraries, should a library be accessible. A well chosen course in reading will carry the children back in the fall to the school room in good trim for work.—West Weekly News.

Vain Sacrifice

Just to keep from getting too vain and pompous and to keep in touch with the common run of people in such sections as West Texas, who eat what they can get, we passed up our usual bowl of glorified strawberries and rich cream today and ate a plate of prunes. We all must make sacrifices at times in order to keep the right attitude toward our less fortunate brethren.—Palestine Herald.

As an example of useless self-abnegation we recommend the above most heartily. The writer convicts himself of not keeping abreast of the time and seasons. We've lived, or at least we've tried to live, in East Texas; we've seen and eaten the festive strawberry grown there, but for more than several weeks now the strawberry that is a strawberry has been on the market here in abundance, grown here, and a bowl of them compared with the East Texas product, would make an East Texan think he'd been eating brown beans for berries. Surely some editors act peculiar when they fill themselves full of prunes.—Sam Miller in Mineral Wells Index.

NEW JOURNAL TO TELL ONLY THE CLEAN AND NECESSARY TRUTH

National Journal to Be Run by Board of Trustees of Note

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—(Scottish Rite News Bureau).—The plans made in New York by Jason Rogers, one time proprietor of the New York Globe, are receiving much comment in educational circles in the Capital City. The publisher has two million dollars with which to start a national newspaper, which will appear about the first of the year and which will have as its ideals the truth and nothing but the truth, but not necessarily all the truth, since editors who call "lies" are to be omitted from its columns.

According to Mr. Rogers, "The paper's sole aim will be to promote the greatest good to the greatest number. It will be allied with no political party and will adhere to no sect. It will be committed to no special causes, but will stand for common sense, for the right, for justice, and above all—truth."

"The paper will be printed in New York, but we plan to make it something more than a local New York daily. We shall try to work out the idea of covering the whole Nation's news, thereby making our journal interesting, attractive, and valuable to the entire country. In respect to style, we shall follow the make-up and news style of the best New York dailies but we shall not confine our editorial emphasis to purely local concerns."

The control of the new paper will be vested in a self-perpetuating board of trustees, composed of men of prestige and importance. They will have full authority to see that the avowed aims of the paper are carried out.

RADIO TO BECOME LINK IN POST OFFICE AIR SYSTEM

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 1.—The United States mail has accepted the accommodations afforded by every means of rapid transportation from the pony express to the airplane, and now has taken to radio as an experiment.

For some time experts of the Post Office Department have been experimenting with radio as an aid to air mail transportation, both for communication between stations along the routes and between the stations and planes. Much has been accomplished, but only the intercommunication ground system has been completed.

When the transcontinental air-mail service is officially opened tomorrow thirteen of the flying field relay sta-

YALE ATHLETES WON BY TEAM WORK

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 30.—Yale's victory in the 48th annual I. C. A. A. A. A. track and field championship this year was the reward of a well-rounded team, with one or two good men trying for places in every event.

For some years we have had the spectacle of California coming east with a few star field performers and walking off with the championship by virtue of a preponderance of first places.

This year, Yale won with only one first place. Little Billy Conines scored 5 points for the Blue with his record-breaking broad jump of 24 feet 8 inches. But what was even more significant, he then stepped out on the cinders and picked up two more points, finishing fourth in the hundred yard dash.

This was the sort of thing Yale men were doing all afternoon at Harvard Stadium. The team George Conines sent to Cambridge made up in consistent trying what it lacked in outstanding stars. And for once consistent trying brought home the honor in an I. C. A. A. A. championship.

Pennsylvania had the stars, sprint men, who walked off with firsts in the 100 and 220, and the class of the pole vault entrants. But the Red and Blue lacked the balance of the Yale outfit and had to take second place.

Penn State sent only four men to Cambridge, and they came close to winning at that. Helffrich, their great middle-distance runner, won the quarters and took second in the half, while other state stars took the mile run and the huge hurdles. But the team finished fifth.

Stanford, best of the western aggregations, accounted for three firsts and a couple of seconds, but was third.

Against such showings as these, that of Yale, with her one first place was a triumph of team work. The Eli athletes obtained two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and a fifth, just enough points to beat Penn by one point.

The performance of the Elis upset the calculations of leading athletic authorities. It even surprised Yale men. The Blue has been at the threshold of an intercollegiate championship many times, but some other outfit always sneaked in the way.

tions along the route, with headquarters at Washington, already equipped with radio, telegraph transmission stations, will co-operate. These stations, situated about 250 miles apart on the 3,100-mile route, are located as follows: Hempstead, L. I.; Bellefonte, Pa.; Cleveland and Bryan, Ohio; Maywood, near Chicago, Ill.; Iowa City, Iowa; Omaha and North Platte, Neb.; Cheyenne and Rock Spring, Wyoming; Salt Lake City, Utah and Elko and Reno, Nevada. The field at Rawlins, Wyoming, is not yet equipped.

A leased wire is used from Reno to San Francisco to complete the system and avoid interference with Pacific Coast radio stations. Operating on a working wave between 2.50 and 3.80 meters, these stations call each other on the 3,998-meter wave, but shut down to listen every fifteen minutes for emergency calls. This chain of radio stations acts as an aerial train dispatching system. It furnishes quick service for planes, transmitting advance weather reports and orders to stations where planes and pilots relieve each other on their cross-country flight.

Air mail will be carried across the country in approximately thirty-three hours each way. All plane arrivals and departures are not reported to WXX at Washington, which station can itself communicate directly as far West as Cheyenne under good conditions.

BANDIT HAS PITY ON GAS STATION WORKER

(By International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., July 1.—Even bold bandits display a sense of pity sometimes, according to John Brown, caretaker of a gasoline filling station here. Brown was robbed recently of $34.50, his employers' money.

"How much of this belongs to you?" Brown said the Bandit asked him, fingering the $34 in change and currency he had taken.

"Fifty cents," the caretaker replied. Tossing a half dollar on the desk the bandit made his exit.

"WHEN BETTER CARS ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM" IS DEMONSTRATED IN THIS MODEL

Eight new body models on a chassis of 114 1/2-inch wheel base, embodying a new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine with a three inch bore and 4 1/4-inch stroke, is the sensational announcement made by the Buick Motor Company.

The new six-cylinder model is to be known as the Standard Six.

The body models will consist of a two-passenger double-service Sedan; a two-passenger Roadster; a two-passenger enclosed Roadster with heater; a five-passenger touring; a five-passenger enclosed touring with heater; a five-passenger double-service Coupe; a five-passenger Sedan; and a four-passenger Coupe. Probably the most striking features of the new models are the completely enclosed sedan and coupe on the open cars, and the low-pressure tires on all models. The cars with the enclosed tops will carry heaters. The tops and sides are so designed that they harmonize well with the distinctive body lines.

They are upholstered with leather, with special cushion springs effecting a high degree of motoring comfort. Other models are furnished with upholstery of durable cloth in pleasing colors.

The engine is a valve-in-head type with automatic lubrication throughout and with the cylinder head removable. The clutch and transmission form integral parts of the engine which is suspended at three points from the main frame. The crank shaft is a drop-forging, extra heavy and balanced with four large bearings. The pistons and connecting rods are properly weighted and carefully manufactured. Large valves are operated by noiseless, adjustable push rods through rocker arms which are automatically lubricated from the engine. This engine produces fifty actual brake horsepower.

It has pressure feed lubrication to the crankshaft and connecting rod bearings, also to the cam shaft and pump shaft front bearings, rocker arm bushings and push rod socket joints, as well as timing gears. The oil pump is of gear type, positive drive, located on the right side of the engine, and driven by worm on the center of the camshaft. It has a maximum pressure of thirty pounds regulated by relief valve. Pump oil screen is reinforced to prevent collapsing. Pistons, cylinder walls, cam rollers, and the other three camshaft bearings lubricated by mist of oil. Oil capacity 4 1/2 quarts. Fan automatically lubricated from reservoir in hub. Water cooling is by centrifugal pump operated from the cam shaft by spiral gears. Harrison cellular radiator is employed.

Control is by means of short spark and throttle levers in the center of steering wheel, friction retained. There is a button type foot accelerator with rest. The clutch pedal is easily operated. Long leverage brake pedal and starter pedal conveniently located. Gear shift and emergency brake levers are convenient to the right hand.

The carburetor is the improved automatic float-feed type, supplied by vacuum system from the gasoline tank mounted on the rear of the frame. Automatic heat control insures proper vaporization at all speeds. The air regulator and choke buttons are on the instrument board.

Ignition is supplied by the high-tension jump spark system, the current being carried by storage batteries and Delco electric generator. The spark advances automatically. The starter is a complete Delco single-unit system for starting, lighting and ignition, built as an integral part of the engine and operating in conjunction with the large storage battery. Combination switch with ammeter and emergency electric heater is found on the instrument board.

The clutch is a multiple disc, dry plate, requiring but slight pressure to operate. It is very smooth in engagement and very positive in action, and the adjustment is particularly simple.

The transmission is the selective sliding gear type, three speeds forward and one reverse. The gears are special and heat treated. There is positive interlocking hand control so easy to operate that the gears can be shifted with the tips of the fingers.

Through single, large, improved, automatically lubricated universal joint and fully enclosed propeller shaft, through spiral gears in rear axle, is the drive. The propeller shaft housing connects directly with the rear end of the transmission by ball joint enclosing universal. Strut rods from the front end of the propeller shaft housing to the axle housing keep them in perfect alignment. Both torque and drive are taken through ball joint.

The rear axle is the three-quarter floating type which means that all the weight of the car is taken on axle tubes and only driving torque is taken by axle shafts. The differential is mounted on high duty ball bearings, pinion shaft on extra large ball bearings, rear wheels on Hyatt roller bearings. Spiral bevel gears are fully adjustable.

The service brakes are Buick type, external contracting, operating on drums of unusual size and area on all four wheels. The equalizer insures even distribution of pressure to front and rear brakes. They are easily adjusted for wear with adjustments very accessible. Hand brake of internal expanding type operating on rear wheel brake drums only.

Drop-forged I-beam of carbon steel, reverse Elliott type, double heat treated steering knuckles and tie rod yokes characterize the front axle. Axle especially designed to operate with four-wheel brakes. New departure ball bearings for the front wheels.

The wheels are of artillery type with hub flanges. Tires are 31 by 4.95 inch, low-pressure, on all models. The steering gear is of improved semi-irreversible split bronze nut and steel worm with large adjustable ball bearings to take up wear. Steering wheel 17 inches in diameter, short spark and throttle levers in center of steering wheels. Horn button on top of steering post.

The frame is of reinforced pressed steel channel, section, exceptionally stiff and deep side members. Four heavy cross members. Integral gas-line tank support and spare tire carrier.

The front springs are semi-elliptic type. The rear, cantilever type, both being exceptionally long, especially heat-treated, and adapted for each body type.

Tops on open cars have a new design quarter curtain, made of special waterproof fabric. Inside operating side curtains open with doors. Models with permanent tops, sides enclosed by glass windows adjustable for ventilation. Enclosed models with stationary type tops with windows adjustable.

Models 24, 24-A, 25, 25-A, have two-piece ventilating type windshield with inside operating, adjustable friction stops to hold glass in position. These models are equipped with cowl ventilators and windshield wiper. All closed models equipped with sunshade, automatic windshield wiper, new style one-piece windshield easily raised or lowered for ventilation by handle in similar manner to windows.

All the models have been equipped with extra pan for the carburetor, and completely insulated wiring, which, with the attention to other details approved by the insurance underwriter's laboratories, entitle Buick owners to the lowest rate for fire and theft insurance.

As standard equipment all models are carried dim and full headlights with anti-glare lenses. Parking lights on cowl, tail lamp and instrument board lamp, motor driven horn, seventy five mile speedometer, gasoline gauge, tire carrier with extra detachable rim, jack, new type high pressure grease gun, full kit of tools, pump, tire repair kit, transmission lock, cowl or windshield type ventilator, rear vision mirror, running board, scuff plates, new sunshade and dome light on all closed models, windshield wiper, automatic windshield wiper on all closed models.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Rogers Hornsby whose home run in the fourth inning beat the Pirates 7 to 5.

Babe Ruth's 18th homer helped the Yanks pile up a 10 to 4 score on the Athletics in their first game but the latter connected with Markle and Gaston in the second and won 10 to 3.

Two homers by Fournier, wasn't enough to defeat the Giants who won

7 to 5.
An error by Judge in the eleventh inning of the first game gave the game to the Red Sox but the Senators came back and took the second 3 to 1.
Six runs in the fourth inning was too big a lead for the Phils and the Braves won 9 to 4 in the first game but a series of two baggers gave the Phils the second 6 to 4.
A two run rally in the ninth gave the Reds a 2 to 1 victory over the Cubs.

The White Sox had no difficulty winning from the Tigers in a fast 14 to 4.

HAND THAT ROCKS CRADLE IS INVOKED TO SWAY VOTE

MONOTONOUS GRIND NOW CHIEF BUSINESS

DAVIS OF WEST VIRGINIA NOW LOOMING AS DARK HORSE

NEW WRINKLE IN POLITICS USED FIRST TIME

By DOROTHY SHUMATE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 1.—The hand that rocks the cradle can be made to sway the vote.

Apparently this is a truth which is recognized by the Democratic wiseacres.

For last night at Madison Square Garden, feminine politicians were busily "swaying" while the roll call marched proudly on. The adjournment in the middle of the roll call showed the walls of the enemy gradually yielding to the feminine touch.

For McAdoo women and Smith women and other women well schooled in the gentle art of discourses were chosen by their stronger and more skilled colleagues to take up their strong-arms in the enemy camps for the sole purpose of "rocking the vote."

Mrs. Clara Goodwin, wife of Judge Goodwin of Lake Forest, Illinois, and Baltimore, is one of the McAdoo assets.

"I've gained my quota," she announced in answer to the question about the number of new votes she could add to the McAdoo figures.

Mrs. Goodwin is a vivid red haired person. She has worked vigorously all week on anti-McAdoo folks.

Meanwhile Elizabeth Marberry, Tammany expert, convention siren and one of New York's most loved women sat with her determination and storm:

"I'll give a great glass of beer to the young lady who will go down into that Kentucky delegation and break it," Miss Marberry challenged.

"A pretty girl and a promise like that ought to mix things up in Kentucky," she added.

"For the rest, here's my address." In spite of her 200 pounds, Miss Marberry was able to do her rounds.

"You don't mean to say that you need votes, Miss Marberry?" some one timidly inquired. "Nothing else but," admitted the Smith stronghold, "and don't forget about the refreshments." Meanwhile the feminine cordon closed in on the delegates and never were tongues more glib or politicians more apprehensive.

Republicans Are Now Making Promises Of Economy In Gov't.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—More economy in government and more tax reduction for the people is the keynote of the administration's financial program for the coming fiscal year.

At the semi-annual meeting of the business organization of government last night, President Coolidge announced his determination to see that this program was followed out.

"I am for economy," said the President, "after that I am for more economy. * * * We must give the people relief from excessive burden of taxation."

The President announced that the executive branch of the government would take drastic steps to do its part in economizing and declared his first move would be to require that preliminary estimates of expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1925 tentatively set at $3,083,000,000 be cut below $2,000,000,000.

Such, the President said, would assure a surplus of at least $108,000,000 by the end of 1925.

THAT IS MERELY YOUR OPINION ABOUT THE MATTER

LONDON, July 1.—The Laborite Daily Herald in an editorial on the Democratic National Convention accuses the delegates of vaguely avoiding the Klan and shelving the League of Nations.

"Both decisions," says the Herald, "completely destroy what little hope either America or the world might have had in a 'democratic' regime."

West Texas—Tonight and Wednesday partly cloudy; warmer in north Wednesday.

BREAK COMES ON TWENTIETH BALLOT

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 1.—Polling 125 votes on the 21st ballot John W. Davis began to be a real factor in the convention voting as an outstanding dark horse.

The switch came on the 20th ballot when Missouri cast her entire vote of 36 for Davis, thus breaking away from McAdoo.

Both McAdoo and Smith are losing ground.

Smith and McAdoo floor workers are trying to bring a change in the Iowa delegation but failed to swing a majority and the chairman announced that Iowa would continue to vote as a unit for the time at least.

20th ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 432, John W. Davis, 122.

21st ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 439, Davis 125. On this ballot Nebraska dropped Governor Bryan and gave 7 to McAdoo.

22nd ballot—Smith 307½, McAdoo 438½, Davis 123½.

Murderers Of Family Of Five Still At Large

CHICAGO, July 1.—Baffled in the search for the maniac who beat Otto Eder, his wife and their small sons to death Friday night in their Elmhurst home with no trace even of the weapons used, Dupage county officials today were planning to drag Salty Creek which flows nearby.

Bodies of the five, the skulls crushed by some blunt instrument were found by police late Sunday, only a few foot prints in the mud leading eastward toward Chicago giving any clue as to the direction in which the slayer had fled.

Officers are concentrating their efforts in an attempt to find a half-witted friend of the Eder family, who is known to have been at the home on the night of the murder.

SECOND DAY OF "FREEZE OUT" GAME OPENS WITH BOTH SIDES CLAIMING LEAD PIPE CINCH

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 1.—William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith resumed maneuvers today in the great "freeze out" now being perpetrated on the Democratic convention.

With the convention still tightly locked at midnight after 15 ballots which proved only that both sides were in deadly earnest about definitely stopping the other, today's balloting got under way with the general situation something like this:

1. McAdoo now has considerably more than a third of the convention vote apparently so tied that he can absolutely prevent the nomination of Smith. This number is said to be around 366 votes.

2. Smith is striving to establish a "die hard" vote amounting to one-third of the convention so that he can assuredly stop McAdoo. Smith's total during today's balloting is expected to reach 350—beyond which it is doubtful how far he can climb.

3. John W. Davis of West Va., who closed the first day and night of balloting in third place, is an excellent strategic position. He has many second choice pledges among the delegates and his popularity, generally, is shown by the fact that outside his own state, his votes yesterday were scattered through nearly a dozen states.

There are two things that may have a very important effect now on the convention result and both of them favor the opposition of McAdoo.

First, numerous McAdoo delegates from the western states, particularly, are leaving the city tonight or tomorrow, and in leaving are compelled to leave their proxies in hands not so eager to name McAdoo. While these proxies can be tied up for a time by McAdoo's friends, it is obvious they can't be held to him forever. Many of his votes are in danger through this route.

The second factor likely to influence the convention is the combined psychological effect of the inevitable breaking of the unit rule in some states, coupled with the gallery demonstrations for Smith. Several states now voting solidly for McAdoo under the unit rule have many delegates for other candidates in their lineup. Once they abandon the unit rule, even the slightest turn to Smith will bring down a din from the galleries where the God of Smith reigns supreme.

Because, it is necessary first to stop McAdoo's continued gains, the Smith forces are trying to absolutely hobble one third of the delegates, then theirs will be a waiting game—waiting until a sufficient number of McAdoo men leave town or until the delegates will be sufficiently weary to be susceptible to stampede. It is easy to understand why the Smith people are saying "there will be no nomination before Thursday evening."

Neither McAdoo nor Smith have reached the peak of his strength yet. McAdoo has votes in Arkansas, New Hampshire and Virginia at least which he can count on in a pinch—and numerous others which are being kept under cover. Smith has between 16 and 20 more votes in the Illinois delegation than Brennan is saving for the psychological moment and there are additional points of strength for the New York Governor in Delaware, Maryland, and if the unit rule comes off, in Missouri, Iowa, and Kansas.

So it should not be surprising to see McAdoo rise as high as 550 votes today, with Smith going to 375—and still no likelihood of a choice either way.

The situation yields itself easily to consideration of dark horse possibilities. McAdoo and his managers declare they see no dark horse.

In this connection it is persistently rumored that if McAdoo acquires a majority in the balloting and holds this majority for several ballots he may try to have the convention rules changed to permit the nomination by majority instead of by two-thirds. There is no confirmation, however, of this possibility.

Government Will Now Mark Time In Naval Oil Reserve Suit

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The Federal government's fight to regain possession of the Naval oil reserves is now at a standstill until October.

The trial of Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, E. J. Dohney, and his son, indicted for conspiracy to defraud the government will not begin here before then.

Suits instituted in Wyoming and California for cancellation of the leases likewise will not be heard until October.

All four defendants indicted yesterday must appear next week here to plead and to post $5,000 bond each, Fall and the Dohneys for conspiracy and bribery and Sinclair for conspiracy.

The indictments were regarded here as a great victory for special government counsel, Atlee Pomeroe and Owen Roberts, who have diligently conducted the government's case before the grand jury for nearly two months.

Frank J. Hogan counsel for Dohney here likewise declared his clients were pleased with the result.

The oil cases are now transferred from the form of partisan politics to the courts of justice. "We welcome the change," he said.

Private Burials for Victims Of Storm

LORAIN, Ohio, July 1.—Lorain buried its dead privately today, the 74 known victims of the devastating storm of Saturday evening while down town in the ruined business section of the city, khaki clad troops moved about.

Where the State Theatre had stood, a light steam shovel puffed as it scooped at the debris where more bodies may be found.

The smell of hot soup came from the yelling army kitchens, while the Salvation Army maintained shelters and the Red Cross dressing stations still found something to do.

Marauding and rioting broke out today in what is known as the Colorado avenue section of the city.

The military authorities who feared serious fighting between inhabitants of the section and persons who were plundering the wrecked houses, dispatched one company of the 145th infantry to the scene.

Nine tenths of the business district of Lorain will have to be rebuilt, engineers said, nearly all of the buildings left standing were so badly weakened by the tornado they will have to be torn down.

All of the homeless had temporary shelter today. School buildings and tents furnished quarters for about 2,000 persons.

The search for those reported missing continued and crews are carefully searching the ruins in the hope of finding some one who might yet be alive.

BALLOTING GOES ON WITH VERY FEW CHANGES

NEW YORK, July 1.—Balloting was renewed this morning with the convention still deadlocked.

Smith followers plan to win McAdoo proxies when McAdoo delegates leave for home. Both candidates hope to have enough votes by night to prevent either from getting the nomination.

Smith delegates want to prolong the balloting until Thursday, when they believe they can win out.

No indication of any sort of compromise yet.

16th Ballot

Smith, 305½.
McAdoo, 478.
Others scattered, showing no particular strength by any dark horse.

17th Ballot

Smith, 312½.
McAdoo, 471½.

18th Ballot

Smith, 312½.
McAdoo, 471½.

19th Ballot

Smith, 311½.
McAdoo, 474.

Indications that a number of breaks in delegations now bound by the unit rule may be expected, came when on the 18th ballot Florida cast 11 for McAdoo and one for Smith, instead of all for McAdoo.

Balloting is proceeding much faster.

A brokerage firm in Wall Street announced $5,000 at even terms that McAdoo at no time would poll 550 votes.

Got $20,000 In Breach Of Promise Action

NEW YORK, July 1.—Madlyn Devers, actress, beauty, was awarded $20,000 in her breach of promise suit against Philip Shaw, wealthy New York broker, by a jury here today.

Miss Devers had asked $100,000 alleging the middle aged broker proposed to her without telling her he already had a wife at the time.

Shaw admitted making the proposal before obtaining a divorce but said he told Miss Devers quite plainly that the marriage proposal was contingent on his obtaining a divorce.

The broker obtained the divorce after the suit was filed by Miss Devers and caused a sensation in court when he offered to marry the chorus girl if she would drop the suit.

TORONTO.—W. J. Thompson of Toronto led the field of 120 players in the qualifying rounds of medal play in the Canadian amateur golf tournament with a score of 154. Lawrence Upson, California, turned in a card of 155.

CHARTER

The charter to be voted on Monday, July 7th, is the labor of 15 of Mexia's loyal citizens who have the best interest of the city at heart. They are property holders, home owners and among them are fathers and mothers. And in reading over this instrument you can see that it has been carefully drawn up to safeguard the present and future generation. The men and women who framed this charter expect to live in Mexia. This is a double reason why they used their best thoughts and talents in framing this document. They also realize Mexia is no longer a cross road village and needs a broader charter to operate under.

Today if you would go to your Mayor or Commissioner and ask them to have the weeds cut down on Hopkins street on property belonging to the city, twice as high as your head, where you can hide yourself under a street light, the answer would be, "Our charter will not permit us to have them cut." Ask for more water when it was badly needed as we citizens who have lived here for the past ten years have experienced a shortage of water. What will the city authorities say? Our charter simply won't permit water. My reason for reciting these two instances is to call the fact to the voters of Mexia on the charter, I feel like a man in the newspaper business is in close touch with the needs of a growing and progressive community and what we need is a definite starting point leading somewhere. And if you will read this carefully prepared instrument you will readily see it has both of these features, so go out Monday the 7th and vote for the people's charter.

—W. K. BOYD.

AS IN REAL BATTLE, GENERALS OF CONTENDING FORCES KEEP SUBALTERNES ON THE MOVE

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 1.—Under the outward clamor on the floor of this Democratic convention two big political organizations are fighting a picture-que and clever war of wits.

To a prespiring spectator in the gallery, the convention looks like a confused and seething mass of faces, a disorganized and oversized gathering of a county fair.

But all unapparent to the galleries the McAdoo and Smith machines are skillfully fighting—their generals writing orders, their captains lashing the soldiers to the fight, their spies revealing the movements of the enemy secret lines of communication, scurrying messengers and councils of war.

William Ladd Rockwell with a loud gray tweed suit and yellow cane stands in the center aisle in front of the speaker's stand. He has a lieutenant in every delegation where McAdoo has strength and they come to him to bring word of a threatened revolt and promise of a few more votes on the next ballot.

He saunters over to the Wyoming delegation. He puts his arm over the chairman's shoulder and there is a whispered conference. On the next ballot Wyoming casts for votes for McAdoo.

Over in a special soft cushioned seat about half way down the center aisle sits Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Smith generalissimo. He has been stricken with paralysis and he can not move about. A woman brushes thru the crowd around him and buzzes in his ear.

Roosevelt has a stack of note paper in his lap and with a fountain pen he scribbles a few lines hurriedly. He hands it to the man in front of him who dashes off.

In a few minutes there is another man whispering with the chairman of the Wyoming delegation, and on the next ballot, Smith has three votes and McAdoo 2.

Underneath the speaker's stand there are dark corridors. There Geo. Brennan, Illinois boss can be seen walking arm in arm with his leaders. He apparently never sees Roosevelt, for then the enemy would know there was something afoot. But every moment each knows what the other is doing.

Erekenridge Long is first lieutenant for Rockwell. He has women workers with him who go among the women delegates. Down in the basement there is a private telephone and he slips away from the floor every few minutes to tell McAdoo who is waiting in his suite atop the Vanderbilt hotel, of the progress of the fight.

Smith sits in his private room in the Manhattan club across the street from the Garden; sipping nothing than Apollonaris.

Messengers bring him those little notes from Roosevelt. Norman E. Mack slips in for a few minutes conferences.

In this way the day and the night drags through with the deadlock unbroken.

COTTON EXCHANGE OPENS TOMORROW FOR BUSINESS

Mr. Roy Akin announced today that the Mexia Cotton Exchange would be open for business Wednesday morning in time to catch the two important reports, the Government condition of cotton and acreage reports.

The exchange will be open at 8 o'clock at which time reports will begin to come in. All the leading spot cotton markets of Texas will be carried on the board in addition to the markets of New York, New Orleans and Liverpool. Here you will be able to get quotations just as quickly as in Dallas, Houston, or any of the larger cities of Texas.

Mr. Akin, who is manager of the exchange states that he shall be glad to have any one who is interested in the markets to visit his exchange and make themselves at home. Farmers who bring cotton to town will have the privilege of viewing the board and see just what the market is doing all over the world which is a feature no other town has in this section of the state.

The Straightline Cape Frock

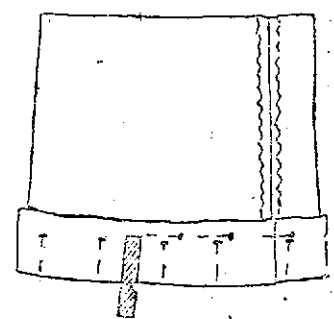

For Sports or General Wear
No wardrobe is complete without a cape frock, and, of course, it must be a straightline model. Good idea, too, to develop it in striped flannel for best service.

A model that will be as much in vogue several months from now as it is today is this straightline frock in striped flannel. As a distinctively summer creation, however, it may be carried out in silk broadcloth, 4 1/2 yards being needed to make the design. The fastening is straight down the front and the opening, like the collar, sleeves and cape, is bound with flat silk braid.

One may or may not have pockets, but the false flaps should be added because they afford another opportunity to use the braid binding which is so smart a feature of all sports and semi-sports models this season.

If preferred, the sleeves may be shortened to the elbows and trimmed with turn-back cuffs of their own material. Paris seems to cling to long sleeves for street wear, though. The diagram shows how to measure the hem after the skirt has been turned up. When working on a straight edge it is well to draw a thread on the line of the first turning. Baste this first turning wide enough so that none of the raw edges will work out from underneath it. From this narrow turned edge, measure the exact depth the hem is to be when finished and draw another thread on this line for the second turning. If the lines are not drawn, as is often impossible in case the work is on an irregular line, use a gauge. This made by taking a straight piece of cardboard and cutting a notch at the exact width the hem is to be. Baste the hem in carefully, then finish with the hemming stitch. If basting is not used, pin the hem in place, inserting the pins at very frequent distances apart.

dispend with the use of pumping. The new appliance is the invention of a Japanese engaged in the pearl fishing industry here.

It consists of a small mask, with face glass and rubber edge, which covers the eyes and nose. The mask is connected to a cylinder about sixteen pounds in weight filled with compressed air and carried on the chest.

The supply of air to the nose is regulated by the mouth, which controls the cylinder with the mask. The old cumbersome diving suit is dispensed with, and the diver can thus move about with greater freedom.

FOLKS SHUDDER AT 'BROKEN OUT' FACES

Folks simply can't help showing that pimply, blotchy or rough faces are unpleasant for them to look at, much less associate and become intimate with people who are so careless about their appearance as to let these skin blemishes rule their destiny. No wonder it seems like "cold chills" run down their backs as they pass you by.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, by healing the skin tissue, remove such skin disfigurements, and the way they quickly get rid of them is responsible for their popularity and tremendous sale of more than two million packages a year. Your dealer has them both. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Black and White Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—(Adv.)

Hail Boy Prodigy As A Paderewski

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Atlanta musicians have discovered a boy prodigy at the piano—a "marvel," a "wonder," "another Paderewski."

He is none other than Philip Deidy, a twelve-year-old youth, who has been studying the piano for two years. He was "discovered" by a well-known musician who bears almost the same name Enrico Leide.

Little Philip had been studying with a local instructor for about a year when his accomplishments "almost bewildered" her. So she took the boy up to play for Leide.

Expecting to be compelled to listen to some overly-proud mother's son's simple interpretation of an equally simple composition, he agreed to listen.

Instead of the elementary rudiments usually given by such pupils, the "boy wonder" started with Paderewski's "Minuet."

Leide started, then quietly arose from a sitting position and stood in awe as the lad gave his interpretation of the selection. When the boy had finished, Leide stood silent for a minute and then burst forth with exclamations of praise.

"Wonderful! Remarkable! You're a genius!" he declared. "Play some more. Don't stop."

So Philip played some more. This time he gave his youthful interpretation of Welschmayer's "Whispering Winds" and Singing's "Rustling Spring." Perfectly at ease and apparently unconcerned over the amazement he was causing, he glided thru these compositions, leaving Leide more spellbound than before.

"He is a genius: He is a born musician. He will become a master of the piano before he is a man!" declared the musician, making no attempt to conceal his surprise.

"Young man," he said, "I want you to come back to my studio and play for me again. Make it Sunday afternoon. I want you to play lots then. You must."

Philip's touch is considered one of the most remarkable accomplishments about the youth, Leide said.

"His execution is marvelous, and his touch is one of the most remarkable things I have seen in my musical career. He must have been playing all his life."

But there the musician was mistaken, according to the youth's instructor, Mrs. Daisy Cobb. She said that he had been studying the piano only for two years—from the age of ten.

Leide gave the prodigy only one line of advice. "Don't attempt to master work too big for you," he said. "Take it slowly and some day you will be a master of the pianoforte."

THERE'S ART IN BOBBING

It's no longer a question of ship, snip and it's off.

Particular women now demand that the hair which remains form a becoming frame for the face and gracefully outlined head.

That's where "art" comes in, for there are as many styles of bobs as there are bobbed haired girls and women. Each one is an individual problem of chin, eyes, nose and mouth.

Then there's the fashionable element—the smart touch which has always associated Paris with women's coiffures—

And the necessity of keeping the hair glossy, fluffy and clean.

All that fastidious women desire will be accomplished by a weekly visit and a small sum well spent at

TANLAC SAVED LIFE SAYS MCKINNEY MAN

McMINN GIVES MEDICINE FULL CREDIT.

"That I am enjoying good health; in fact, that I am alive today, I attribute solely to Tanlac," is the remarkable statement made recently by R. H. McMinn, well known resident of 801 S. Chesnut St., McKinney, Texas.

"Back in 1917, stomach trouble hit me hard and I soon got where I could scarcely eat anything without suffering torture. Even water would hurt me and at times I thought I would die the pain was so bad. I went along this way a year and by that time I wasn't able to eat a thing but raw eggs and grape juice. I had lost weight until I was just about as poor as a snake and so weak all I could do was to lay around the house. I felt like I would rather not live than to continue suffering so.

"Then, one day I read what Tanlac had done in a case almost like mine and as I was just about at the end of my rope anyway, I decided to try Tanlac thoroughly. I bought five bottles to start with and, sir, before I finished the first bottle, I was getting better. My appetite picked up and I could eat more without suffering, so I stuck right to Tanlac until I took the five bottles, and by that time I was a well man. My appetite was dandy, I could eat everything, and I soon got back my full strength and gained 30 pounds of good, solid weight besides. My whole outlook on life was changed too, for I felt like a new man, with a brand new stomach, and I have not been bothered a moment with stomach trouble since then. I honestly believe Tanlac saved my life and there's nothing too good I could say for it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 40 million bottles sold.

This Is Pro Drink How About the Antis?

NEW YORK, July 1.—Five tons of coffee, enough to make 300,000 cups are being drunk by the delegates, alternates, and visitors attending the Democratic National Convention here this week. Whether the tremendous stock of the beverage will be exhausted by the thousands who flock to Madison Square Garden depends largely upon the duration of the convention.

The concessionaires have laid in their edibles on the basis of a deadlock in choosing the presidential candidate that will hold the delegates in this city for two weeks. On that mode of reasoning, they have also laid in fifty barrels of lobsters and enough "hot dogs" to supply 32,000 every day. Coffee, "hot dogs" and sea food are chiefly in demand at the numerous counters which have been placed in convenient places in the Garden.

According to the holders of the eating concessions, the middle western delegates are calling largely for sea-food—lobsters and clams—while the unanimous choice of all for a beverage seems to be coffee, with iced coffee, because of the weather, proving exceedingly popular.

TRANSLUCENT WINDOWS OBSCURE COLLEGE VIEW

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Physicians and attaches of the medical department at the Ohio State University have found grief in an unusual instance of economy put forth by the contractor erecting the new university medical science building.

Instructed to fill the frames of windows in the new operating room with translucent glass, the contractor found this type of window pane materially cheaper than the more common transparent variety. Hence, he reasoned, with such difference in price, why confine the translucent glass to the operating room?

Those who eventually must labor in the new building found fault, not only with the contractor's logic, but with the translucent panes which will confine their visions to the four walls and which are to be found in practically every window in the new building.

ASTIGMATISM

Astigmatism sounds like an awful hard word, but it really means "without a point." Translated into everyday language, when we say that a person has astigmatism, we mean that his eyes are so shaped that the rays of light do not come to a point; hence, his vision is disturbed, and his eyes often strained.

In no other defect is such definite care on the part of the optometrist

required as in the correction of astigmatism. After finding out the kind of lens that is needed, he sees that it is supplied; and, oh! how carefully he does measure the finished glasses. A little twist or a wee turn and his careful work in fitting the eyes is for naught.

The trained optometrist finds that the great majority of those who seek his services have astigmatism. It may be of one variety or another, and may be combined with near-sightedness or far-sightedness, or may occur alone as a simple astigmatism. In any event, the most painstaking care is required to insure comfortable vision and satisfactory glasses.

No optometrist today who is worthy of his profession but has been trained in the correction of this defect. One instrument is used exclusively for

SCIENCE SEEKS BIRTH PLACE OF MAN IN MONGOLIAN DESERT

Andrews Again Heads Party Hoping
To Find Traces of Man a Million
And a Half Years Old.

Having established to their own satisfaction the fact that man existed 600,000 years ago, scientists will now attempt to trace his origin back another million years.

Led by Roy Chapman Andrews, who returned from Asia a year ago with a nest of 26 dinosaur eggs ten million years old, another expedition sailed from the United States May 25th for China. Thence the party will proceed into the heart of the Gobi desert, in Mongolia, where it is hoped a five-year search will reveal further amazing secrets concerning the early life of man, beast and reptile.

As in the previous expedition, the scientists will rely on American-built motor cars and trucks for transportation, although roads are unknown in most of the vast territory to be explored. Mr. Andrews recently visited Dodge Brothers factory in Detroit, where five cars were being equipped for the expedition. Mr. Andrews expressed great satisfaction with the new equipment and repeated that he attributed a great share of the success of his last memorable expedition to the remarkable endurance of Dodge Brothers cars. These made it possible to accomplish a 30-year task in three years. In view of this experience it was only natural that he should again insist upon Dodge Brothers cars for his next expedition.

Fifteen scientists representing twelve branches of learning, chosen from 4,000 applicants constitute the party.

While scientists differ on the subject, this work and many others are employed in the determining of this and other ocular conditions with which the optometrist meets.

ject, especially since the discovery of the 600,000-year-old Foxhill man in England. Mr. Andrews is of the belief that man evolved in Asia and that it will be in the younger rocks of Mongolia, if anywhere, that traces of his first activities will be found. He is strongly supported in this theory by an eminent scientist as Henry Fairfield Osborn who was referred to by William Jennings Bryan, in their famous debate on evolution, as "a tall professor who comes down out of the trees to push good people who believe in God off the sidewalk."

"When we found the ten-million-year-old dinosaur eggs, we were examining rocks older than humanity," said Mr. Andrews. "But now we are going to the rocks where human remains are more likely to exist. It is a gamble, but we think the prospects justify gambling."

In their quest the scientists will push farther west than they have ever gone before, working both to the north and the south of the Altai Mountains. As the beginning of exploration will be made about 1,000 miles from the nearest base, Kalgan, it will be necessary to organize with special care. Arrangements have been made for 200 camels to carry provisions ahead of the motor trucks.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

WITHOUT COMMENT

Believe it or not. The Milan, Missouri, Standard reports that a conductor on a Burlington train near Jewell City the other day found Mrs. Frank Scott had only one ticket for herself and 13 children. The children occupied five double seats. "Are these all your children or is it a picnic?" asked the conductor. They were all the children of Mrs. Scott and she had the family Bible in her suit case to prove it. The Scotts have been married less than ten years and have 19 children, all boys. There are five sets of triplets and two sets of twins. The thirteen above mentioned were all under 5 years old and could ride free. They were being taken by their mother on a visit to relatives in Canada.—Terrell Transcript.

How many of us stop when we say "Good Morning" and think what the phrase means? Nobody knows how it started, but he or she to whom the idea first came was a poet. For in those two words lives the essence of a prayer. Of course we who say it hope our own morning may be good—that goes without saying. But do we go a step further and breathe a prayer that the day of those we meet may also be filled with happiness? The full phrase of our ancestors was "God give thee good morrow!" This would be a great old world if we really meant what we said, if when we greeted our acquaintances we really wanted their days to be filled with the joy of living. If we did, we'd go out and help to make them so.—Trinity County News.

Jazz music, jazz newspapers and jazz motion pictures are questions of far greater concern than they are looked upon as being, and the sooner the people find out the evil

Vain Sacrifice

Just to keep from getting too vain and pompous and to keep in touch with the common run of people in such sections as West Texas, who eat what they can get, we passed up our usual bowl of glorified strawberries and rich cream today and ate a plate of prunes. We all must make sacrifices at times in order to keep the right attitude toward our less fortunate brethren.—Palestine Herald.

As an example of useless self-abnegation we recommend the above most heartily. The writer convicts himself of not keeping abreast of the time and seasons. We've lived, but at least we've tried to live, in East Texas; we've seen and eaten the festive strawberry grown there, but for more than several weeks now the strawberry that is a strawberry has been on the market here in abundance, grown here, and a bowl of them compared with the East Texas product, would make an East Texan think he'd been eating brown beans for berries. Surely some editors act peculiar when they fill themselves full of prunes.—Sam Miller in Mineral Wells Index.

National Journal to Be Run by Board of Trustees of Note

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—(Scottish Rite News Bureau).—The plans made in New York by Jason Rogers, one time proprietor of the New York Globe, are receiving much comment in educational circles in the Capital City. The publisher has two million dollars with which to start a national newspaper, which will appear about the first of the year and which will have as its ideals the truth and nothing but the truth, but not necessarily all the truth, since certain vital necessities are to be omitted from its columns.

According to Mr. Rogers, "The paper's sole aim will be to promote the greatest good to the greatest number. It will be allied with no political party and will adhere to no sect. It will be committed to no special causes, but will stand for common sense."

"Hooky," Old Science Improved by This Boy

HOUSTON, July 1.—Hey kids! Here's a new one—the scientific "hooky" player.

This application of science to truancy came to light when H. R. Mills, probation officer caught a youngster in a motion picture show and questioned him about his school work.

Contrary to the Tom Sawyer type, this lad was neatly dressed and his shoes were brightly polished. His neck and ears were spotless.

For two months he evaded school marm and truant officers. He had been given a transfer from one school to another and after checking in his books at the first school failed to appear at the second so that record was kept on him.

According to Mills' report some 2300 truants were caught during the past school year.

"What are you going to do next year," Mills asked his "master truant."

After several minutes of deep meditation the lad replied, "Don't know yet, but I got all summer to figure out some way."

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 28.—Before the Democratic convention is over, a majority of the male delegates may have beards but just now there are some prize chest protectors bristling and staggering in the hot air of the garden that put in the shade the famous pink symphony of J. Ham Lewis.

Delegate C. B. Wilson of Soda Springs, Idaho, probably has the most glorious sweep of alfalfa across his bosom seen at a national convention in many a day.

It is gray, it sweeps in majestic and bulky waves down the delegational waist coat; Wilson has it under excellent control and keeps it constantly in electric sparks with the loving strokes of his hand. The man from Soda Springs is no believer in bobbed hair; these whiskers would almost do for a lady godiva.

Speaking of Lady Godiva, she might stand a good chance of stampeding the convention. The delegates are showing a nice eye for the gentler sex. They are going to present a woman, Mrs. Leroy Springs, as a candidate for second place on the Democratic ticket.

There was a sprinkling of brand new women delegates throughout the garden shortly after the doors opened this morning.

Here and there in the vacant rows of seats on the floor sat a woman or beautiful girl, looking rather self-conscious but sticking to her seat. Where the delegate whose badge she wore was spending the morning no one knows.

One millionaire Democrat, a visitor to the convention, married a Follies girl.

A national committeeman had a famous and extremely young actress on the platform with him.

It doesn't matter how old the delegates are, either, when it comes to appreciating the New York girls. Parley Sheldon, 81, delegate from Ames, Iowa, was over at Tammany Hall the other night, dancing away with the best of them.

As the convention got into its fifth session its make-up changed in some noticeable particulars.

There was a stout lady with a "page" badge and an elderly gentleman with credentials labelled "stenographer." Anything to get on the floor and block the aisles.

Advertising is a most essential asset to your business.

THEY ARE PROMINENT IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Above: MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT & MEX. HERBERT HOOVER. Below: GENERAL J.J. PERSHING & JUDGE JOHN R. CAVERLY.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover was said to be the one who decided that her husband should not consider overtures to be the Vice-Presidential nominee on the Republican ticket because she did not want him to be relegated to a minor political place.

Judge John R. Caverly, of Chicago, will probably be the presiding judge in the trial of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., self-confessed murderers of little Robert Franks.

General John J. Pershing visited scenes of his youth when he attended commencement exercises at West Point Military Academy, and took the salute as the graduating cadets filed by.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Democratic National Committee, presided at a pre-convention meeting of prominent women who are interested in the form which plans shall take in the Democratic platform.

IT COMES TO A BOY BUT ONCE IN LIFETIME

Billy Buckner, Jr., is no longer a boy. He is a full grown man, having reached his 21st birthday Monday, and is now wondering whom he is going to vote for.

He celebrated the big event, that comes to a boy but once in a lifetime, by working all day as usual, and at night enjoyed a swimming party at the Reunion Grounds with a few of his friends, afterwards some delicious cream and cake at his home. It was an informal affair and was attended by members of his household and a few neighbors, all of whom congratulated Billy and wished for him many more birthdays.

JUDGE AUTO BY MATERIAL USER, ADVISE OF EXPERT

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—Motor car development has reached the stage when the prospective purchaser of a car should judge the machine, not only from the appearance, but by the materials used in the construction of its various parts, according to Herman Eckhardt, Jr., local automotive expert.

Three epochs have figured in the development of the motor car of today, Eckhardt explained.

First, he said, was the experimental stage, the conversion of the wagon into the horseless carriage.

This was followed by the engineering stage, resulting in the development of the crude automobile into a work of scientific mechanism.

"Now we are entering the metallurgical stage," Eckhardt declared, "in which metallurgists are striving to produce metals that will give the car longer life, greater efficiency and require less attention."

Lower operating and maintenance costs are to be expected, also, from the research of the metallurgists, he said.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

See how a United States Rubber Company Plantation in the Far East. After the rubber trees are tapped the latex is brought in cans to these Field Stations and weighed.

The Beginning of Better Tire Service

WHEN the U. S. Rubber Engineers discovered that raw rubber latex in its natural state was a better tire material than the old bulk form of crude rubber it marked the beginning of better tire service.

U. S. Royal Cords built of cords solutioned in raw rubber latex have now been in use over three years. These tires have shown remarkable strength and wearing quality.

The use of latex in tire building is commercially possible because of three things:

- 1—The processes and equipment for using latex developed by the United States Rubber Company.
- 2—The discovery of a method of shipping latex to this country by the U. S. Rubber Engineers.
- 3—The development of the U. S. Rubber Plantation in the Far East providing an unfailing source of supply of latex of a peculiarly uniform quality especially adapted for tire building.

The latex treatment is particularly valuable in the building of low air-pressure flexible-wall Balloon and Balloon-Type Tires.

RADIO TO BECOME LINK IN POST OFFICE AIR SYSTEM

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 1.—The United States mail has accepted the accommodations afforded by every means of rapid transportation, from the pony express to the airplane, and now has taken to radio as an experiment.

For some time experts of the Post Office Department have been experimenting with radio as an aid to air mail transportation, both for communication between stations along the routes and between the stations and planes. Much has been accomplished, but only the intercommunication ground system has been completed.

When the transcontinental air-mail service is officially opened tomorrow thirteen of the flying field relay sta-

YALE ATHLETES WON BY TEAM WORK

By FRANK GETTY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, June 30.—Yale's victory in the 48th annual I. C. A. A. A. A. tract and field championship this year was the reward of a well-rounded team, with one or two good men trying for places in every event.

For some years we have had the spectacle of California coming east with a few star field performers and walking off with the championship by virtue of a preponderance of first places.

This year, Yale won with only one first place. Little Billy Comins scored 5 points for the Blue with his record-breaking broad jump of 24 feet 8 inches. But what was even more significant, he then stepped out on the cinders and picked up two more points, finishing fourth in the hundred yard dash.

This was the sort of thing Yale men were doing all afternoon at Harvard Stadium. The team George Connors sent to Cambridge made up in consistent trying what it lacked in outstanding stars. And for once consistent trying brought home the trophy in an I. C. A. A. A. championship.

Pennsylvania had the stars, sprint men, who walked off with firsts in the 100 and 220, and the class of the pole vault entrants. But the Red and Blue lacked the balance of the Yale outfit and had to take second place.

Penn State sent only four men to Cambridge, and they came close to winning at that. Helfrich, their great middle-distance runner, won the quarters and took second in the half, while other state stars took the mile run and the huge hurdles. But the team finished fifth.

Stanford, best of the western aggregations, accounted for three firsts and a couple of seconds, but was third.

Against such showings as these, that of Yale, with her one first place was a triumph of team work. The Blue athletes obtained two seconds, four thirds, a fourth and a fifth, just enough points to beat Penn by one point.

The performance of the Elis upset the calculations of leading athletic authorities. It even surprised Yale men. The Blue has been at the threshold of an intercollegiate championship many times, but some other outfit always sneaked in the way.

tions along the route, with headquarters at Washington, already equipped with radio, telegraph transmission stations, will co-operate. These stations, situated about 250 miles apart on the 3,400-mile route, are located as follows: Hempstead, L. I.; Bellefonte, Pa.; Cleveland and Bryan, Ohio; Maywood, near Chicago, Ill.; Iowa City, Iowa; Omaha and North Platte, Neb.; Cheyenne and Rock Springs, Wyoming; Salt Lake City, Utah and Elko and Reno, Nevada. The field at Rawlins, Wyoming, is not yet equipped.

A leased wire is used from Reno to San Francisco to complete the system and avoid interference with Pacific Coast radio stations. Operating on a working wave between 2,500 and 3,800 meters, these stations call each other on the 3,998-meter wave, but shut down to listen every fifteen minutes for emergency calls. This chain of radio stations acts as an aerial train dispatching system. It furnishes quick service for planes, transmitting advance weather reports and orders to stations where planes and pilots relieve each other on their cross-country flight.

Air mail will be carried across the country in approximately thirty-three hours each way. All plane arrivals and departures are not reported to WWX at Washington, which station can itself communicate directly as far West as Cheyenne under good conditions.

BANDIT HAS PITY ON GAS STATION WORKER

(By International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., July 1.—Even bold bandits display a sense of pity sometimes, according to John Brown, caretaker of a gasoline filling station here. Brown was robbed recently of $34.50, his employers' money.

"How much of this belongs to you?" Brown said the bandit asked him, fingering the $34 in change and currency he had taken.

"Fifty cents," the caretaker replied. Tossing a half dollar on the desk the bandit made his exit.

Section 4. That the manner of holding said election shall be governed by the general laws of the State of Texas, regulating general elections, when not in conflict with the provisions of the law hereinabove referred to.

Section 5. All voters desiring to adopt a charter so prepared and reported by the Charter Commission shall have printed on their ballot the following:

"For the adoption of the Charter prepared by the Charter Commission duly elected on the 18th day of March, 1924, and which was reported by said Charter Commission to the City Commission of the City of Mexia on the 27th day of May, 1924."

And those opposed shall have on their ballots the following:

"Against the adoption of the Charter prepared by the Charter Commission duly elected on the 18th day of March, 1924, and which was reported by said Charter Commission to the City Commission of the City of Mexia on the 27th day of May, 1924."

Section 6. That the action of the aforesaid Charter Commission in calling the election for the purpose hereinabove stated, and in all other respects with reference to the framing and submitting of such proposed charter, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and the said Charter Commission, or the members thereof, shall ratify and confirm all things done by the present City Commission of the City of Mexia, Texas, with respect to the matters and things dealt with in this ordinance, and shall make the same their act and deed by subscribing their respective names hereunto under the caption: "APPROVED BY CHARTER COMMISSION," and such names as so subscribed shall be published as a part of this ordinance.

Section 7. A copy of this ordinance shall be sufficient notice of said election, and thirty (30) days notice of the time and place of holding the said election shall be given by posting certified copies thereof at the places designated for holding said election at least thirty (30) days prior to the holding of said election, and by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) full days from date of election.

Section 8. The fact that the City of Mexia is at the present time without a charter and that the public interests require the adoption of a charter, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the rules requiring ordinances to be read upon more than one day and for the immediate taking effect of this ordinance, and such rules are hereby suspended, and it is ordained that this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval. Passed and approved this 27th day of May, 1924.

"WHEN BETTER CARS ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM" IS DEMONSTRATED IN THIS MODEL

Eight new body models on a chassis of 114 1/2-inch wheel base, embodying a new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine with a three inch bore and 4 1/2-inch stroke, is the sensational announcement made by the Buick Motor Company.

The new six-cylinder model is to be known as the Standard Six.

The body models will consist of a five-passenger double-service Sedan; a two-passenger Roadster; a two-passenger enclosed Roadster with heater; a five-passenger touring; a five-passenger enclosed touring with heater; a two-passenger double-service Coupe; a five-passenger Sedan; and a four-passenger Coupe. Probably the most striking features of the new models are the completely enclosed sedan and coupe on the open cars, and the low-pressure tires on all models. The cars with the enclosed tops will carry heaters. The tops and sides are so designed that they harmonize well with the distinctive body lines.

They are upholstered with leather, with special cushion springs effecting a high degree of motoring comfort. Other models are furnished with upholstery of durable cloth in pleasing colors.

The engine is a valve-in-head type with automatic lubrication throughout and with the cylinder head removable. The clutch and transmission form integral parts of the engine which is suspended at three points from the main frame. The crank shaft is a drop-forging, extra heavy and balanced with four large bearings. The pistons and connecting rods are properly weighted and carefully manufactured. Large valves are operated by noiseless, adjustable push rods through rocker arms which are automatically lubricated from the engine. This engine produces fifty actual brake horsepower.

It has pressure feed lubrication to the crankshaft and connecting rod bearings, also to the cam shaft and pump shaft front bearings, rocker arm bushings and push rod socket joints, as well as timing gears. The oil pump is of gear type, positive drive, located on the right side of the engine, and driven by worm on the center of the camshaft. It has a maximum pressure of thirty pounds regulated by relief valve. Pump oil screen is reinforced to prevent collapsing. Pistons, cylinder walls, cam rollers, and the other three camshaft bearings lubricated by mist of oil oil capacity 4 1/2 quarts. Fan automatically lubricated from reservoir in hub. Water cooling is by centrifugal pump operated from the cam shaft by spiral gears. Harrison cellular radiator is employed.

Control is by means of short spark and throttle levers in the center of steering wheel, friction-retained. There is a button type foot accelerator with rest. The clutch pedal is easily operated. Long leverage brake pedal and starter pedal conveniently located. Gear shift and emergency break levers are convenient to the right hand.

The carburetor is the improved automatic float-feed type, supplied by vacuum system from the gasoline tank mounted on the rear of the frame. Automatic heat control insures proper vaporization at all speeds. The air regulator and choke buttons are on the instrument board.

Ignition is supplied by the high tension jump spark system, the current being supplied by storage batteries and Delco electric generator. The spark advances automatically. The starter is a complete Delco single-unit system for starting, lighting and ignition, built as an integral part of the engine and operating in conjunction with the large storage battery. Combination switch with ammeter and automatic circuit breaker is found on the instrument board.

The clutch is a multiple disc, dry plate, requiring but slight pressure to operate. It is very smooth in engagement and very positive in action, and the adjustment is particularly simple.

The transmission is the selective sliding gear type, three speeds forward and one reverse. The gears are special and heat treated. There is positive interlocking hand control so easy to operate that the gears can be shifted with the tips of the fingers.

Through single, large, improved, automatically lubricated universal joint and fully enclosed propeller shaft, through spiral gears in rear axle, is the drive. The propeller shaft housing connects directly with the rear end of the transmission by ball joint enclosing universal. Strut rods from the front end of the propeller shaft housing to the axle housing keep them in perfect alignment. Both torque and drive are taken through ball joint.

The rear axle is the three-quarter floating type which means that all the weight of the car is taken on axle tubes and only driving torque is taken by axle shafts. The differential is mounted on high duty ball bearings, pinion shaft on extra large ball bearings, rear wheels on Hyatt roller bearings. Spiral bevel gears are fully adjustable.

The service brakes are Buick type, external contracting, operating on drums of unusual size and area on all four wheels. The equalizer insures proper distribution of pressure to front and rear brakes. They are easily adjusted for wear with adjustments very accessible. Hand brake of internal expanding type operating on rear wheel-brake drums only.

Drop-forged I-beam of carbon steel, reverse Elliott type, double heat treated steering knuckles and tie rod yokes characterize the front axle. Axle especially designed to operate with four-wheel brakes. New departure ball bearings for the front wheels.

The wheels are of artillery type with hub flanges. Tires are 31 by 4.95 inch, low-pressure, on all models. The steering gear is of improved semi-irreversible split bronze nut and steel worm with large adjustable ball bearings to take up wear. Steering wheel 17 inches in diameter, short spark and throttle levers in center of steering wheels. Horn button on top of steering post.

The frame is of reinforced pressed steel channel, section, exceptionally stiff and deep members. Four heavy cross members. Integral gasoline tank support and spare tire carrier.

The front springs are semi-elliptic type. The rear, cantilever type, both being exceptionally long, especially heat-treated, and adapted for each body type.

Tops on open cars have a new design quarter curtain, made of special waterproof fabric. Inside operating side curtains open with doors. Models with permanent tops, sides enclosed by glass windows adjustable for ventilation. Inclosed models with stationary type tops with windows adjustable.

Models 21, 21-A, 25, 25-A, have two-piece ventilating type windshield with inside operating, adjustable friction stops to hold glass in position. These models are equipped with cowl ventilators and windshield wiper. All enclosed models equipped with sunshade, automatic windshield wiper, new style one-piece windshield easily raised or lowered for ventilation by handle in similar manner to windows.

All the models have been equipped with drip pan for the carburetor, and completely insulated wiring, which, with the attention to other details approved by the insurance underwriter's laboratories, entitle Buick owners to the lowest rate for fire and theft insurance.

As standard equipment all models are carried dim and full headlights with anti-glare lenses. Parking lights on cowl, tail lamp and instrument board lamp, motor driven horn, seventy five mile speedometer, gasoline gauge, tire carrier with extra demountable rim, jack, new type high pressure grease gun, full kit of tools, pump, tire repair kit, transmission lock, cowl or windshield type ventilator, rear vision mirror, running board, scuff plates, new sunshade and dome light on all closed models, windshield wiper, automatic windshield wiper on all closed models.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Rogers Hornsby whose home run in the fourth inning beat the Pirates 7 to 5.

Babe Ruth's 19th homer helped the Yanks pile up a 10 to 4 score on the Athletics in their first game but the latter connected with Markle and Gaston in the second and won 10 to 3.

Two homers by Fournier, wasn't enough to defeat the Giants who won 7 to 5.

7 to 5.

An error by Judge in the eleventh inning of the first game gave the game to the Red Sox but the Senators came back and took the second 3 to 1.

Six runs in the fourth inning was too big a lead for the Phils and the Braves won 9 to 4 in the first game but a series of two baggers gave the Phils the second 6 to 4.

A two run rally in the ninth gave the Reds a 2 to 1 victory over the Cubs.

The White Sox had no difficulty winning from the Tigers in a slug fest 14 to 4.
